Join us on Saturday, September 24th 2016 from 10am-3pm as we celebrate our 5th year of “The Grand Woofstock” North County’s’ Premiere Pet Festival held at Grape Day Park, 321 N Broadway in downtown Escondido. This is a FREE family friendly event that celebrates the love we have for our four-legged companions.

This 70’s themed (flower power) love fest is a fun outing for groovy dogs and their owners and features a blessing of the animals, pet parade, lots of doggy treats, costume & howling contests, photo booth, doggy cool off pools at Dog Beach and several shady areas to sit and relax and enjoy your day. For the adventurous dogs we have an agility area & fly-ball demos.

For humans we have several gourmet food trucks and our highly popular “Ask a Vet” Booth where you can ask questions and get the latest medical advice and preventive health care tips. Got a question about a behavior issue you are having with your dog? Visit our “Ask a Trainer” booth where you can ask our certified trainers behavior related questions. We have several 501c3 non-profit dog rescues attending and they will be bringing several adoptable dogs that need a great forever home. We have a total of 64 dogs adopted at Woofstock and are excited about offering this opportunity to our non-profit rescues.

We have over 60 pet-related vendor booths and a fun line up for both you and your four-legged fur baby so come on down and join us for this Out-Of-Site event. Check out our website at www.thegrandwoofstock.com and we will see you there.

All dogs must be kept on a leash.
